

I would like to go on record as opposing any challenge to Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law because it serves an admirable purpose. The banking industry doesn't need government's help to make money- they do a fine job on their own.